CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFICATIONS

A player must have a minimum of 502 plate appearances (at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitch, sacrifices, sacrifice flies and catcher's interference) to qualify for a major league batting-percentage championship.

If a batter falls short of 502 plate appearances, he might still be determined the batting champion if by adding a sufficient number of at-bats to his record to bring his plate appearances up to 502, his average based on these additional at-bats is still the highest in the league. His actual average, however, would be the official.

To qualify for the ERA title, a pitcher must pitch a minimum of 162 innings.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the best the Twins ever batted as a team against a single opponent in a season is .327. That was against Seattle in 1979. The poorest they've ever done was .166 against Cleveland in 1968. Conversely, Twins' pitchers did their best-ever job against Milwaukee in 1972, turning in a collective 1.58 ERA against the Brewers. Twins' pitchers got their worst 'lumps,' though, against Baltimore in 1971, 6.62.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins led the majors with a .421 slugging-percentage in 1988.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Twins' pitchers gave up just two grand-slam homeruns during 1988 . . . but both occurred in the same game. Cleveland's Cory Snyder hit one off Bert Blyleven in the 1st inning of the April 22 game in the Metrodome, and Joe Carter connected for one in the 8th inning off Keith Atherton as Cleveland went on to win, 11-6.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' 11-0 and 5-0 doubleheader sweep in Oakland, June 26, 1988, was the club's second double-whitewash in 28 American League seasons. They also won in Cleveland, 9-0 and 5-0, July 24, 1963. The only time the Twins were ever blanked twice in one day came on May 21, 1961, when Cleveland beat them, 9-0 and 2-0, at Metropolitan Stadium, in the Twins' first-ever doubleheader.

SAVES RULE

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
(2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
  (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or
  (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

It is considered a 'blown save' when a pitcher who has entered a game in a save situation departs with the save situation no longer in effect because he has given up the lead. If the save situation still exists when he leaves the game, he is not charged with a save opportunity. And, if he has not given up the lead when he leaves the game, even though the save situation may no longer exist, he is not charged with a save opportunity.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins' most recently signed scout bears probably the most appropriate name of any talent hunter in the business, Vern Followell. Vern 'follows 'em well' in southern California.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the Twins are the only team other than the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers to draw crowds of 50,000-or-more fans on four consecutive home dates. The Twins turned the trick July 8-9-10-22, 1988, drawing crowds of 51,285, 52,293 and 50,020 vs. Milwaukee, then coming home to 52,284 against Baltimore. The Dodgers have had three such experiences. The Yankees have two . . . but one of them was a five-game stretch, the major league record. They did that against Cleveland and Boston from June 24 to July 2, 1979.

THE METRODOME

This is the Twins' eighth season in the beautiful Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome, the second domed facility to come into use in the American League and the third in the majors.

The Twins' first 21 seasons in Minnesota were played in Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, where the club led the American League in total attendance for their first ten years of operations, 1961-70, with an overall draw of 13,264,656.

Construction began on the Metrodome on December 23, 1979. It's located on a 22-acre site in the Industry Square district just east of downtown Minneapolis and just west of the West Bank campus of the University of Minnesota. The site is at the juncture of Interstate Highways 94 and 35W.

The stadium itself occupies an area of 415,000 square feet. It's 745 feet to the north and south, 632 feet to the east and west. Homeplate is located in the southwest corner of the building. The interior volume is 70,000,000 cubic feet, and there's a drop of 186 feet from the highest point of the domed ceiling to the middle of the playing field, which is 47 feet below street level.

The playing surface is Astroturf. The dome is made of two layers of 1/8-inch-thick teflon-coated fiberglass, and it's supported by from 3 to 6 pounds of air pressure per square foot.

There are 36 rows of seats in the lower deck, 32 in the upper deck. In rightfield, 7600 seats in the lower deck are retractable to accommodate baseball, reducing the overall capacity to 55,883 for baseball. All seats are the folding armchair type of plastic construction.

There are eight entrances to the Metrodome. The four corner entrances open into the first deck. The four side entrances are reached by outside earthen ramps and they open into the second-deck seating area. The Twins' executive and ticket offices may be reached via a west entrance on Chicago Avenue South.

Field dimensions are 343-feet down the leftfield line, 385 to the leftfield power alley, 408 to dead centerfield, 367 to the power alley in rightcenter, and 327 down the line to right. The fence is 13-ft. high in left, 7-ft. in center and 23-ft. in right.

The Metrodome was built under a $55,000,000 grant approved by the Minnesota State Legislature in their 1977 session.

. . . that thirteen different Minnesota communities have been birthplaces of Twins' players. Minneapolis and St. Paul have produced three each, while Appleton, Faribault, Graceville, Lamberton, Nimrod, Pelican Rapids, Pierz, St. Cloud, Sleepy Eye, Waseca and Winona lay claim to one Twin apiece. In addition, there've been four Twins . . . Tim Laudner, Tom Lundstedt, Gary Serum and Greg Thayer . . . who were born elsewhere but were reared at least to a great extent in Minnesota.

EARNED-RUNS RULE

The determination of earned-runs is as follows:

'An earned-run is a run for which the pitcher is held accountable. In determining earned-runs, the inning should be reconstructed without the errors and passed balls, and the benefit of the doubt should always be given to the pitcher in determining which bases would have been reached with errorless play.'

Until 1969, a reliefer could not be charged with an earned-run if he entered the game after the side could have been retired but for an error, no matter how many runs he subsequently gave up in that inning. Now, runs scored by batters who reach base off the reliefer are charged as earned on that pitcher's record. They are not, however, charged as earned against the team as a whole. Therefore, a discrepancy may occur between the total earned-runs charged against a team and the sum total of the earned-runs charged against the individual pitchers of that team.

TWINS' TRAINER

Dick Martin, or as he's more formally known, Richard Dudley Martin, has been with the Twins as trainer since the 1972 season, when he served as an assistant to Twins' long-time trainer George 'Doc' Lentz. Lentz retired after that season and Martin has been Twins' head trainer since. A modernist in training techniques who dedicatedly keeps up with all the nuances of the field, Martin is a product of Lynchburg College in Lynchburg, Virginia, his hometown. After earning his degree and his letter in cross-country there, Dick went on to Indiana University for post-graduate work before turning professional as the trainer of the Lynchburg team of the class A Carolina League in 1969. Lynchburg became a Twins' affiliate the following year. Devoted to physical conditioning, Martin practices what he preaches by serving as a high school and college basketball referee during the off-season . . . when he can clear the time from his fishing and golfing pursuits. A resident of West Melbourne, Florida, Dick makes his home with his wife, the former Diane Gerber, and their children Laura Beth, 14, and Tyler David, 11.

THE DESIGNATED HITTER

In the American League, a batter may be designated to bat for the starting pitcher, and for all subsequent pitchers in any game without otherwise affecting the status of the pitcher(s) in the game. A designated hitter, for the pitcher only, must be selected prior to the game and must be included in the lineup card presented to the umpire-in-chief. He must always bat in the position assigned him on the lineup card.

It is not mandatory that a club designate a hitter for the pitcher, but failure to do so prior to the game precludes the use of a designated hitter for that game.

The designated hitter may be used defensively once the game is underway, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order, but the pitcher must then bat in the place of the substituted defensive player.

Pinch-hitters for designated hitters may be used. Any substitute hitter for a designated hitter himself becomes a designated hitter, and a replaced designated hitter shall not re-enter the game in any capacity.

A runner may be substituted for the designated hitter and that runner assumes the role of the designated hitter.

Should the game pitcher be switched from the mound to a defensive position, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

Once a pinch-hitter bats for any player in the batting order and then enters the game to pitch, this move shall terminate the designated hitter role for the remainder of the game.

A designated hitter may not also be used as a pinch-runner.

The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Kirby Puckett reached the 1000-level in basehits at possibly the earliest point in his career of any player in baseball history. Kirby was with the Twins four years and 132 days when he connected for hit #1000, a double, off Shawn Hillegas of Chicago in the 1st inning of the Friday, September 16, 1988, game in the Metrodome. Until Puckett, only Earle Combs, Paul Waner and Joe Medwick had amassed 1000 hits before completing five seasons in the majors. And, Puckett won't complete his first five full seasons until May 7, 1989, so could pick up the 37 hits he needs to surpass Medwick (1064) as baseball's all-time first-five-year hit-leader.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that Twins' catcher Earl Battey was thrown out at first base on an apparent single to rightfield by California's Lu Clinton in the 5th inning of the July 17, 1964, game at Metropolitan Stadium.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that only five Twins' pitchers have ever beaten each club in the league during the course of a single season. Camilo Pascual turned the trick in 1961. Jim Grant and Jim Kaat both achieved the feat in 1966, and Kaat repeated in 1967 . . . each of the above when the league consisted of nine opponents. In the 12-team American League of 1973, Bert Blyleven became the fifth Twin to beat every club. No Twin in the days of a 14-team league (1977 to present) has been able to master every club in a single season.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that only three times have 'position' players pitched in a game for the Twins. On September 10, 1961, in Kansas City, first baseman Julio Becquer, a left-hander, came in to pitch the last 1.1 innings of the Twins' 13-1 loss in the first game of a doubleheader. Julio gave up 3 runs on 4 hits and a walk. The second occasion was on September 22, 1968, when handyman Cesar Tovar played all 9 positions for the Twins against Oakland at Metropolitan Stadium. Cesar pitched the 1st inning and set the Athletics down without a score. He walked Danny Cater . . . but fanned Reggie Jackson! The Twins went on to win, 2-1, with Tom Hall the winning pitcher. Then, on June 27, 1988, in California, outfielder Dan Gladden pitched a 1-2-3, mop-up 9th inning in the Twins' 16-7 loss to the Angels.

DID YOU KNOW???

. . . that the longest homerun ever hit in the Metrodome was hit to the 2nd deck in rightfield by Milwaukee's Ben Oglivie off Brad Havens, July 27, 1983, a 481-ft. clout! Kansas City's Bo Jackson holds the longest shot to centerfield, 466-ft., belted off Bert Blyleven, June 10, 1987. Twin Kirby Puckett hit the longest boomer to leftfield, 459-ft., off Boston's Wes Gardner, September 3, 1987. The longest ever hit by a Twin in the dome, however, belongs to Kent Hrbek, who orbited a 480-ft. shot to rightfield off Texas' Charlie Hough, September 9, 1984.
